HOAGLAND'S NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore easily and speedily separated It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient safe and secure

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use

THE WEST

The Western Pacific Railroad Company are making costly and extensive improvements at the terminus of the road at Oakland Cal

A man named Alexander Wilkins was shot and killed a few days ago in Santa Cruz county, Cal, by some assassin concealed at the road side

Prime wheat in Missoula county, Montana, is worth $2 per bushel. The crop of wheat in the Territory this year is estimated at 55,000 bushels

At Reno, Montana, the other day, a German was married to an English lady whom he had courted altogether by letter and photograph, and who had crossed the Atlantic to meet him

The Indians are running off all the stock in the vicinity of Silver City, Montana, and there is scarcely a single horse or mule left They are becoming so bold as to approach within one hundred yards of the town and steal them, in broad daylight at that.

It is said that the managers of the street cars in San Francisco refuse to let white men ride on the front platform of their cars, because it is dangerous They won't let Chinamen ride anywhere else. But we mustn't draw any inferences from this fact—it is only the Chinese ox that is being gored

The Chicago Tribune has an article showing by statistics indisputable, that the center of political power in this country has swung westward to a point near Lafayette Ind and is rapidly moving west of that The New England States which had thirty eight Representatives in 1840 will in 1870 have but twenty two

The Helena Herald of the 30th of September says "J B Hubbell, Esq., received a private letter yesterday from Maj Pease special agent of the Blackfeet, stating that a large band of hostile Indians crossed the Teton a few days since and took up their march on the war path The Major said they were all warriors the squaws and pappooses having been left at home but their destination he was unable to learn

The Prescott, Arizona, Miner of September 18th, says Wednesday September 8th a large party of Indians attacked a train of seven wagons belonging to Espirito Arriola killed 4 men and captured 53 head of mules The attack was made at a point between Wickenburg and the Vulture mine A party of Mexicans followed the Indians east The train was engaged in hauling quartz for the Vulture Mining Company

A young man named Wm T Wilborn of Carneros Napa county, Cal, recently went to work on the ranch of a Mr Chatman and when retiring for the night placed a candle upon what he thought was a nail keg by his bedside It proved to contain five or six pounds of powder however and when he blew out the light a spark fell upon the keg igniting the contents The force of the the explosion blew him across the room, injuring him in a shocking manner He got up however and put out the fire which had communicated with the bedding He was taken to Santa Rosa for medical treatment and is recovering

The Corrinne Reporter speaking of the late stage robberies says In the last robbery only two persons were engaged to wit Frank E Long and George P Stone alias Prior Long was killed at the time of the attack on them by Robbins and party Stone was wounded and has since had his leg amputated and is now a prisoner This Long was the principal in this robbery He is of Mormon extraction and has long lived in this country and had long been a driver on the Boise line of stages Stone is the young man who was bar tender at the late Bon Ton in Corinne All the treasure taken by them was recovered

A dispatch from Santa Cruz Cal Oct 4th gives the following "At eleven and a half o'clock this morning, it was discovered that a house occupied by Mrs Thompson and family had been totally destroyed by fire The house was situated on the Russell Ranch near Santa Cruz The bodies of Mrs Thompson and her two children were found in the debris dead and fearfully burned A churn was found a short distance from the house containing cream nearly turned to butter and it had apparently been left in haste It is presumed that the unfortunate mother was occupied in churning when discovering her house to be on fire she rushed to save her children, and was herself with them engulfed with flames The sad calamity throws a gloom over our community The cause of the fire is unknown

The New York World suggests an improvement in organ grinding

"Suppose the organ players were to comb well their music boxes of the machinery contained in them and replace it by some of a strictly utilitarian kind—say coffee grinding or pepper grinding apparatus? Or, if this would involve too much labor, let them not replace the musical arrangements at all but grind merrily through the livelong day in silent rapture The grinder, thus diverted of his odium, would take in more money than he ever gained by his noise Let some sensible organ grinder take this hint at once and on the first who does the writer promises to bestow a ten cent stamp every time he passes"

IMMIGRATION TO OREGON

Important Correspondence

LARGE REDUCTION IN IMMIGRANT FARES FROM SAN FRANCISCO TO PORTLAND

The following correspondence has been placed at our disposal

OFFICE OF THE IMMIGRATION
AND LABOR EXCHANGE
Portland Oregon Oct. 1 1869

Ben Holladay, Esq, President N P T Company DEAR SIR The Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange are in the daily receipt of numerous letters from persons in the Atlantic States desirous of immigrating to Oregon making inquiries as to the cheapest and best methods of reaching our State

At present the best facilities offered is to come to San Francisco by the Pacific railroad and from there by your steamships to Portland

The bug bear of the dangerous character of the Columbia river bar is becoming exploded and our society will take particular pains to satisfy all that your steamships will afford a safe (and I hope) a cheap means of bringing emigrants to Portland, Oregon

In conversation with you I was pleased to notice the expression of a willingness to assist Oregonians in all their laudable efforts to place our State in its proper light abroad

You have now become one of us though unfortunately some in our midst from personal prejudices and interested motives have not heartily welcomed your advent here and have opposed your efforts for the development of some of the most important interests to our State. Yet the great mass of our people bid you God speed in the accomplishment of those very enterprises you have inaugurated and are now pushing towards a happy completion.

It is essential for emigrants to reach here with the least possible outlay of money, and to induce them to come to Oregon, the cost of passage from San Francisco to Portland should be in some proportion to the price charged on the Pacific rail road

If you will reduce your fares to the bona fide immigrant, I have no doubt you will be pleased with the effect bringing to our shores the hardy pioneers from Illinois, Ohio, Missouri and other States, as well as the thrifty toilers of Germany and Ireland to make homes in our inviting State and assist in developing her vast resources which are only awaiting this influx of population to yield its abundant treasures

Hoping to receive an early and favorable consideration,

I am truly yours,
A. M. LORYEA
Vice President Oregon Immigration
and Labor Exchange

OFFICE OF THE NORTH PACIFIC
TRANSPORTATION COMPANY
PORTLAND O Oct. 9th, 1869

Dr A M Loryea Vice President "Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange, Portland, Oregon

DEAR SIR Your communication bearing date October 1st, making inquiry on behalf of the Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange," in regard to the prospects of a reduction of the rates of fare to the actual emigrant on the steamships of this company, from San Francisco to Portland, received and contents carefully considered

I am desirous of aiding in every possible manner all worthy efforts on the part of the people of Oregon to bring their State into that favorable notice, to which its many advantages and manifest resources so eminently entitle it, and to place it in a position accessible to the many worthy emigrants now seeking homes on the Pacific slope.

It requires no argument to prove that the great want of Oregon to day is population, in securing the necessary population from that wave of emigration now setting in across the continent, westward composed as it is chiefly of hardy pioneers from the States east of the Rocky mountains and the hard fisted and worthy yeomanry from Germany and Ireland is a question in which not only Oregonians but also all those interested in means of travel and transportation of freight to and from Oregon are vitally interested

It is only by these accessions to our population that the material resources of our State will be developed and this being done the internal and external trade and commerce of Oregon will necessarily be increased in the same rapid ratio and to such an extent that not only the people of this State generally, of all classes, trades and professions but as well the owners of the present lines of communication and those in process of construction will be amply compensated for any reasonable sacrifice made at the present time, in aid of a consummation so much to be desired as the speedy development of Oregon

For the accomplishment of this purpose therefore I shall be happy to co operate so far as reasonably in my power with the society you represent and with all similar agencies having in view the two fold purposes namely that of furnishing the actual emigrant with a cheap and speedy transportation to a State where, with industry and economy he can procure a comfortable home for himself and family and the speedy development of a State destined to future greatness but yet little known to any save those within its own borders

Hoping, therefore that it may be the means of contributing somewhat in this behalf I take pleasure in stating to you, and through you to the Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange that from and after this date the rates of fare in steerage to the actual emigrant by the steamships of The North Pacific Transportation Company" from San Francisco to Portland will be reduced from $20 the present price to $12 in the future until further notice

Mr Weidler the agent at this place will arrange details to carry this into effect

I am very respectfully
BEN HOLLADAY President,

Since railroad and telegraph extensions to the north are beginning to assume the status of facts accomplished the great empire of the Columbia the Wallamet and Puget Sound—which is destined some day to weigh as in a balance against California—has attracted more of its merited attention and papers from that region such as the OREGONIAN of Portland appear to us surprisingly well edited and metropolitan looking with compactness and fullness of news for a region that has not yet claimed to be itself the very center of the world Doubtless there are the spokes now being made for a veritable hub in the region but Oregon is as yet like a modest boy in the lustiness of his growth There is to be found in the Portland WEEKLY OREGONIAN as much news of manufacturing engineering and the like substantial developments as there is in any California weekly that could be mentioned except the Mining and Scientific Press Oregon has trees enough to insure a healthy growth of soul in its population and summer showers when we are parching, unless we go rusticating to Lake Tahoe Humboldt said the future great center of the world's civilization would be within five hundred miles of San Francisco Bay It seems he could not determine in his own mind between California and Oregon

A Washington letter states that the day after the great panic in Wall street [illegible] Boutwell received a dispatch from Jay Gould, the "bull" leader, asking the loan of $500,000 in currency, and collateral security of bonds, at the same time calling the Secretary's attention to the fact that he (Gould) was the President of the Erie railroad. He gave as a reason for this singular request that the Erie road was, now engaged in heavy improvements in Ohio, and that the currency was needed to pay the hands who would otherwise go unpaid—a calamity, in the view of Gould in consequence of the great dissatisfaction it would produce which would be injurious on the eve of an election especially when it was known that the Treasury had any quantity of currency locked up. Mr. Gould made other efforts to obtain currency, but Secretary Boutwell did not deem it proper to furnish capital for speculation in the present condition of affairs in Wall street.

WEDNESDAY MORNING OCTOBER 13, 1869

Washington Territory

The message of Gov Flanders delivered to the Legislature last week at Olympia gives an encouraging account of the growth and prosperity of Washington Territory. Reports accompanying the message present important statistics which are calculated to give a favorable impression of Territorial resources, progress and development. The Territorial Auditor states that the total valuation of assessed property for the present year as indicated by returns at his office is $7,811,2[illegible], being an increase of twelve per cent over the valuation of 1868. This large increase is an evidence of unusual thrift and prosperity for that Territory. During twenty months ending 31st August 1869 the amount of lands disposed of at the Olympia land office was 180 249 acres, while the amount disposed of at the Vancouver land office during the same period was over 70,000 acres. Of the public lands of the Territory, 5,258,604 acres have been surveyed, about half of which lie east of the Cascade mountains.

The Legislature is asked to memorialize the Post Office Department for a daily mail service from the Columbia river to Olympia; to send a memorial to Congress relative to San Juan Island protesting against yielding up the Island to Great Britain on any conditions whatever; to request Congressional action for the erection of defences on the Sound, and to earnestly call for aid by a guarantee of interest on bonds for the construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad. These suggestions, with the exception of the last one, are of a practical character and if properly presented will be likely to receive favorable attention at Washington.

An Important Movement.

Elsewhere in to-day's paper we print an important correspondence relative to the reduction of immigrant fares on the North Pacific Transportation Company's steamships from San Francisco to this city. Mr Holladay has responded in a liberal manner to the proposition of the Board of Immigration for Oregon, and the reduction in fares which he proposes to make to actual immigrants, is considerable enough to be of material advantage in attracting people to our State. This is a step in the right direction. A policy of this kind will, in the long run, be more gainful for those interested in our lines of transportation than a policy based exclusively on a narrow view of immediate profit, while in its results to the State at large, a liberal policy in this regard will be incalculably more advantageous than the opposite course. One of the great wants of Oregon is a larger infusion of public spirit among all classes of citizens. A narrow perception must give way to a broad view of the requirements of our situation and the possibilities of our future. Those who look to the future development of our State and rely upon that development to compensate them for present outlays and to make present undertakings successful, are the persons who are destined to be most amply rewarded in the new era that is dawning upon us.

In General.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, the leading paper of the South, differs from most of the organs of its party about Uncle Tom's Cabin. At a time when all the old Democratic animosities against this book are revived, the Courier-Journal praises it as giving a faithful picture of Southern society as it really was in ante-war times.

The New York Herald of the 27th September, in an article on New York politics, states that the result of the Republican Convention, with the chance of an amalgamation or coalition of the Mozarters—unionists and republicans—is exercising Tammany badly, and threatens to despoil her of some of the spoils she had confidently calculated on, as the just prize of a victorious party.

It is estimated by competent authorities that the cotton crop of the Southern States this year cannot fall much, if any, under 3,000,000 bales of 450 pounds each. This yield, at twenty-five cents a pound, a low figure, will bring the great sum of $337,000,000,—more than the value of any cotton crop ever produced before in the United States. We guess the "infernal Radicals" haven't ruined the State so badly after all.

"There has been," says the Sacramento Bee, "a great deal of bombast about the Chinese overrunning America. The total number of passengers who arrived in the United States during the past year is set down at 389 651. Of this number but 12,874 were Chinese." When the Democracy controlled the country the number of Chinese arrivals per annum, as we have heretofore shown was frequently greater than any recent year. With these facts before the country don't that party cut a pretty figure in pretending to be opposed to Chinese immigration!

The New Northwest, a Deer Lodge (Montana) paper states that J W Patrick of that place, has just returned from a trip toward the Pen d'Oreille Lake, where he had been sent by the N. P. R. R. exploring party. When this party arrived at Deer Lodge some time ago, by following up the Missoula, Hell Gate and Deer Lodge Rivers, Mr Canfield heard of a pass by which the long circuit which he had made could be avoided and dispatched Mr. Patrick to explore the route. A natural pass was found through the divide between the Missoula and Clarke's Fork having no elevation of over three hundred feet by which difficult mountains can be avoided and the distance much shortened. This is thought to be a very important discovery for the North Pacific Railroad. It is said that the pass has hitherto been almost wholly unknown.

Moved by the recent proceedings in the Gold Room at New York, the St Louis Democrat says that the West and the South must be emancipated from financial and commercial dependence upon New York. This emancipation, it thinks, would be effected through the removal of the national capital to the Mississippi valley. Five years after that is done it says St Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago and New Orleans would care no more for the antics of gold gamblers in New York than they now do for the doings of bruisers at Foster's Island. But would it? the gold gamblers have their base of operations somewhere else. What would be gained to the country merely by their changing headquarters to some other place? The situation of the national capital, be it in one locality or another, could hardly stop greedy speculation.

The New York Times says that one of the most gratifying features of the late affair in Wall street is the utter annihilation of the leading members of the gang who made such scandalous use of the names of the President and Secretary Boutwell.

THE STATE FAIR

SALEM, Monday, Oct 11, 1869.

Everything took place to day according to the printed programme, which informs us that the day will be wholly occupied in receiving articles at the Pavilion and entries at the Secretary's office. You have already learned by telegraph something of the numbers of entries. They are certainly not overwhelming in magnitude, and I assure you that it does not yet require a very [illegible] reporting [illegible] to be spectatoring for the whole [illegible]. The articles entered by the ladies are greatly in excess of all others, having [illegible] with the actual number [illegible] 130. They [illegible] a few articles of utility [illegible] ornamental work of various sorts and the rest are jams, jellies [illegible] and ingenious contrivances to tickle the palate at the dinner or lunch table. The Ladies' Department this year will do them immense credit. To morrow or the next day I am going to devote myself with a passing notice of the dear creatures and their exhibition.

The next most important item in the matter of entries is in the horse department. The entries [illegible] at four o'clock numbered sixty five. Just what proportion of these are trotters and racers I am unable to say, but I may venture upon stating that if all that class of horses were taken out of the list, the balance of the show would be as tame as a second class pulpit effort on the subject of infant baptism. Of cattle, the entries number only thirty seven, while those of other farm animals are still smaller. But in all these departments the applications at the Secretary's desk are multiplying with most encouraging rapidity.

There is one feature of the fair to day which strikes me favorably—the arrival and entry of many new mechanical contrivances for the farm, shop and household, furniture, household goods etc. In this respect the fair will be vastly better, I think, than any of its predecessors. The room for the exhibition of this class of articles will be altogether inadequate to afford a fair display. The Pavilion is by far too small and the shed devoted to agricultural machinery will hardly suffice to shelter a creditable collection. Hitherto the building for this purpose hid not need to be a large one and so, if the Society, providing room according to the past experience, should fail to have sufficient accommodations, they can well plead what the lawyers call a surprise, and the public will be disposed to be lenient in its judgment. To be crowded in this department would be really a most healthy indication. Should this occur, the Society will take measures to avoid being caught napping another year.

In my letter yesterday I spoke of the Pavilion as a standing shame to the Society. The building is not a creditable one either in size or convenience, or condition, but I am told that the Society has not been able to do anything the present year in the way of improving it. All of the funds were exhausted and the Society got some in debt in the publication of the Statistics of Oregon. Many contemplated and desirable improvements were thus, as the play bills say, "unavoidably postponed." Mr J. H. Moores, Chairman of the Executive Committee, has done all that a man could do, under such circumstances, to put everything in good shape. Yet for all that, the grounds and buildings are very far from what they should be. The Pavilion should be enlarged, painted on the outside, sealed and painted in the inside, and should be kept in such a state of order and cleanliness as would permit goods to be exhibited without such risk of damage as has always prevailed. Other and better sheds should be erected for farming machinery and implements. The grounds should be cleaned up and kept clean. Nothing but the most rigid police regulations could keep the grounds neat, but rigid police regulations should be at once adopted and enforced. Our fairs will never compare favorably at all with those of other States, till these and even greater improvements shall be made. I said as much to day to a prominent man in the Society. He replied "Well, we are all plain farmers, and these things are good enough for us." This was characteristic of the Oregon farmer, and it is just what's the matter. Make shifts and shambling modes of doing things, are the rule. The State Agricultural Society could never do a better thing than to make itself, with all it has and all it does, an example to every farmer in the State, in the neatness of its grounds and the snug and correct ways of doing things. Appearances do amount to a great deal in this world, and fairs and fair grounds are no exceptions to the rule.

The receipts to-day at the gate amounted to over $1,000. At the Secretary's office the entry money was over $400. I have heard experienced men estimate that the total of entries will reach fifteen hundred, a figure far above that of any former year. Everything as yet is in a sort of chaotic state, and will be more or less so till day after to morrow.

I enclose the programme of exercises for each day of the week to come.

TUESDAY, Oct 12.—Trotting.—At 2 o'clock P M, trotting for horse, mare or gelding, mile heats, 2 in 3, to harness and to rule. Premium $100.

THE WEST

Rev J. [illegible] Chamberlain has again taken charge of Whitman Seminary at Walla Walla.

The Governor of Washington Territory is of the opinion that Congress is willing to give the buildings of old Fort Steilacoom for an insane asylum, and recommends a memorial for that purpose.

The Governor of Washington Territory says in his message: We are accustomed to speak of our supply of lumber as inexhaustible, yet unless [illegible] means can be devised to protect our forests from the ravages of fire such as we have experienced during the past two summers it will not be many years before the whole lumbering business will be crippled for want of timber.

The Walla Walla Union says: The new grass on the Spokane prairie we are informed by Mr W. C. Painter, who lately passed through that country on his way from Colville, is 10 to 12 inches high on ground that was burned over before harvest. The Prairie presents a vast sea of waving grass just ready to be cut. This is the second crop for this season and if anything different is more luxuriant than the first.

Last week, the San Francisco Bulletin began to issue a morning edition. The edition is in all respects a complete morning journal. For some time past the Bulletin has been the most excellent newspaper on the Pacific coast and it is still steadily improving. As a specimen of journalistic art it has scarcely any superiors in the country. Its proprietors have just expended about $40 000 in purchasing a new press and other machinery—being forced to do so by the growing business of the establishment.

AT THE DALLES.—Yesterday's Mountaineer [illegible] the following:

Mr. Hand, of that paper has gone on a visit to the Eastern States.

Mr. J [illegible] Laughlin and son [illegible] from the East on Tuesday evening last looking well.

Rev Thomas Condon anticipates getting up a [illegible] lectures for the coming winter at the Congregational church.

The Wasco County Hospital was let to Thomas Smith, for the term of one year at 2 500 Drs Brooks and [illegible] are the County Physicians

The Roll of Wasco county returned shows an [illegible] in value $905 04 The following [illegible] was levied: County purposes 13 mills State 5 [illegible] 2 mills

[illegible] improvement has been made in the [illegible] of the Dalles during the past summer

[illegible] of late has considerably revived and the [illegible] fair to enjoy a prosperous winter trade

The Misses Ah Chow and Ah Kow were arrested for stealing a duck or drake from a respectable citizen and upon proof conclusive of the sex of the bird involved in the proceeding the young ladies were fined $5 and costs.

FROM SALEM.—From the Statesman of yesterday we take the following items, though the most of the matter in that paper will be found in our regular report of the Fair:

The bridge over Mill creek on the new route following [illegible] street north is almost completed, only two days work hauling gravel

A lady who attended the theater Saturday evening [illegible] bracelet.

[illegible] Esq who buried his wife only a few days ago is lying dangerously sick at his residence in [illegible]

[illegible] so our exchange says came up on [illegible] from below One gent, who couldn't or wouldn't [illegible], was set ashore at Butteville and his indig[illegible] companions are said to have gritted their teeth and [illegible] revolvers, but they were careful not to use them.

NEW FEATURE.—By reference to an advertisement of Ladd & Tilton it will be seen that they have made arrangements to receive time deposits of trust [illegible] sums of one dollar or upwards and will allow [illegible] on the same from the time of deposit This arrangement will be of material benefit, we predict, to laboring men and others whose regular incomes are small, [illegible] afforded an opportunity of investing the same so as to bring a certain return no matter how diminutive the capital. The establishment of such institutions [illegible] of Savings Banks, in Portland cannot but have a [illegible] effect upon the material interests of the city. Every one who has a dollar to spare would subserve his own benefit by patronizing them. [illegible] laid the foundation of a fortune by beginning in this way who would otherwise have [illegible] comparative poverty all his days.

[illegible].—The removal of a wharf or building on the levee front, reveals an amount of accumulated [illegible] rubbish which would astonish those who deem [illegible] anything like a model of neatness. Every [illegible] of offal and refuse material seems deposited along the water's edge which the waves can bear, [illegible] can remove. This becomes putrid until, [illegible] of those houses on the levee were not air [illegible] would come up through that it would [illegible] able. Under the present system of allowing all [illegible] to remain on the river front it would not be a matter of wonder if the malaria arising from it should [illegible] and even pestilence and death.

STILL GOING.—People are still leaving Portland for the State Fair at Salem. The boat was crowded again yesterday morning, many went up by land and many others will go to-day. There will in all probability be a larger [illegible] of people in attendance this year than ever were [illegible] in the State previously. Our reporter is on the grounds and will keep the readers of the [illegible] posted in regard to all matters connected with [illegible] of the representatives of Oregon's [illegible] and products.

[illegible].—We learn that the ladies connected with the Philharmonic Society of this city will give [illegible] of a highly interesting character in [illegible] three weeks. The exercises will consist of a supper, social promenade, concert and music by the members of the Society and Band. It will doubtless be an occasion of rare interest, and receive a liberal share of patronage from the public, who so well understand the high [illegible] of the entertainments heretofore given by this popular musical society.

[illegible].—From the correspondence published elsewhere in this paper, it will be seen that arrangements have been made by the Oregon Board of Immigration with the North Pacific Transportation Company which will secure material reduction in the rates of fare by the vessels of the company from San Francisco to this city [illegible] is made only in case of bona fide immigrants, and such persons will be furnished with the necessary [illegible] to enable them to avail themselves of the privileges.

[illegible].—The workmen engaged in tearing down and [illegible] the buildings of Messrs Risley and Masters [illegible] found a number of cans of fruit under [illegible] which had evidently been placed there a long [illegible]. They were doubtless cached by some thief who [illegible] use them afterward but either forgot them [illegible] off and never came back or else was caught. The [illegible] connected with the affair is, Who stole [illegible]?

TWENTY-THIRD INFANTRY BAND.—This band has been [illegible] from Vancouver W T and stationed in this city. Their headquarters are at the corner of Third and [illegible] streets. This arrangement will be a pleasant one to the people of Portland as it will afford them the opportunity of listening to the fine music which this band is capable of making more frequently. We hope to hear the band still playing often.

MEAN TRICK.—Some graceless scamps about Portland have a habit of defacing the signs of business men which cannot be too severely reprehended. Any one who would condescend to such low tricks either through [illegible] or spite, would not hesitate to steal or do anything else that is mean, but for a wholesome fear of the law.

[illegible].—We learn that the work of deepening [illegible] leading into the basin at Oregon City is so far advanced that by the last of the present week the boats can come in and pass out with a full cargo. This will considerably enhance the facilities for transportation on that part of the river.

A GOOD TIME.—The Good Templars Sociable given by [illegible] Lodge last evening passed off pleasantly in every respect, all seeming to enjoy themselves finely. The supper, speeches and [illegible] were all good. Such [illegible] are doubtless productive of prosperity in the Society getting them up.

SALE DAY.—Mr Richardson will sell at his auction room on Front Street to-day some very choice real estate lying in a very eligible part of the city and those who desire to purchase a good homestead or to buy for purposes of speculation should be on hands to-day at 10 A.M.

WRONG NAME.—The name of the party mentioned yesterday morning as having been robbed near East Portland was given as Sheppard. It should have been Knox [illegible]. We learned yesterday that there was a strong [illegible] probability of the capture of the thief.

LEVELING.—The bulges in the Nicolson pavement at the corner of Pine and First streets have been reduced and [illegible], our efficient Street Commissioner will also [illegible] down the bulge on Main street at its intersection with First.

LAST NIGHT.—The entertainment by Prof. M[illegible] at the Oro Fino Theater was not largely attended but all present were well pleased with the performance. A new programme for to-night.

IN PORT.—The George S. Wright reports a bark seen off the bar at the mouth of the Columbia. She was probably the A. Heaton of the New York and Portland line as that vessel is now due here.

STATE TAX.—The State tax due from Multnomah county this year will not be far from thirty thousand dollars. This sum will be raised from the rolls of the county.

RATES.—The rates for currency at the First National Bank yesterday were 5 buying and 6 selling an advance of three-fourths of a cent on prices of last Monday.

[illegible].—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Mr. Carter proposes to open a dramatic season at Oro Fino Theatre on next Tuesday night.

REPAIRED.—The [illegible] between Front and [illegible] at last been [illegible]

ON LINE.—Mr [illegible] the regular [illegible] State Fair.

[illegible]

The Day After the Battle

[illegible] solitude in Wall street [illegible] [illegible] of the cons[illegible] security [illegible] of advance [illegible] merchant [illegible] the startling encouragement [illegible] opulent [illegible] by the terrible [illegible] combination [illegible] and constituting [illegible] the philanthropic expectation at the great swindle may never be repeated. That the fraud was not [illegible] and to standing [illegible] moment. The results [illegible] has [illegible] a dangerous epidemic gradually progressing under the [illegible] skilful [illegible] has been timely tapped [illegible] the ripening of [illegible] the worst stage was [illegible] not expected. Never was consumptive patient a tender youth of two or twenty—more [illegible] by admiring friends. The effort was for the time successful but then came the [illegible] crash and all at once were forgotten [illegible] love home and affection. Despair [illegible] while the clubfooted genius smiled with delight. Wall street was seized with paralysis [illegible] however as a last remedy the skilful application of the Treasury chief proved effective. The excitement is now at an end and it is hoped that it will be long ere such terrible scenes shall be re-enacted.

THE GOLD ROOM

But yesterday the gold room might have stood against the world. Conflagration in its wildest fury never made more terrible wreck. It was a scene to be witnessed with sympathetic feelings for setting aside the utter recklessness of the worthless component parts of the flame the transaction was disastrous and furnishes subject for regret, although in the main the result must be hailed with gratification. Disconsolate the monetary animals prowled around the arena where the mighty struggle was attempted. Neither bears nor bulls assumed the offensive yesterday. Reluctantly whipped into obedience—forced into decency by complete exhaustion—compelled to forego the greedy appetite for gain by popular indignation—temporarily thrust aside as crawling reptiles that had glutted themselves with their prey mortified at the result of the feast (some of the guests at the board having been poorly served) and generally dissatisfied the majority of the gamblers were [illegible] yesterday. Although the streets were crowded but little business was transacted. A pall hung over the assemblage. At noon it was like a wake the crowd of sympathizers waiting to convey their murdered friend 'Speculation,' to its last resting place. But the Gold Room was a picture in itself. Not many hours before it resounded with eager shouts and vociferations—the hoarse cries of infuriated demons—whose thirst for gold was stronger than their voices. Indeed they so strained themselves that they cackled and finally broke down. The ruins of Pompeii are grand to contemplate the blight on the Gold Room leaves a sad and miserable spectacle to behold. On Friday last the furies were exercised, Gorgons grinned and harpies revelled in delight.

To any young man of a contemplative mind whose reflections were directed to thoughts either above or below, Dante, in referring to the lower regions, only faintly conveys any idea of the New York Gold Room on the day referred to. Human reptiles crawled about in all directions there was gnashing of teeth and fiendish joy. Men's minds were gone astray and Lucifer with an ingot in his hand showed himself to the idiots and they shrieked with joy. What a change did yesterday present. The sulphurous smell of the room had partly gone, but the odor of the churchyard still remained. The Gold Room was not as bright as usual. There was no rubbing of hands of fat and princely merchants—no dashing gait of well shaved, knowing gamblers—no eager smile of innocent buffoons mature for robbing. It was a sandy desert—a tomb, a vault, a cave, a sepulchre—replete with stories. It was pregnant with a grand financial history. How bright ghosts arrayed in gold, strutted around the circle coquetting in curling whiskers and with tongue most oily. All was dumb. The wreck was apparent on all sides. Not in twos or threes, but in tens, twenties and hundreds, human beings had struggled for existence—not manfully perhaps not honestly—but surely in the hope of gain. It was deserted now. The pit was like a black hole. No longer the earnest looks arrest attention. The place was dull, cold and frozen. Memoranda—what glowing stories could they not have told—were strewn about the floor. The galleries looked bare and the mighty pit in which the throng was most excessive was completely empty. In fine a greater contrast could not be presented than the appearance of the Gold Room on yesterday and the day preceding.

THE FEELING IN THE CITY

The shock was terrific indeed. It is generally admitted that no similar affair since the war has caused such utter consternation. The feeling yesterday in Wall street and vicinity was unquestionably one of unqualified satisfaction. An immense weight seemed to have been lifted from off the commercial chest and merchants breathed more freely. The whole affair was thoroughly discussed the causes of the gold fracas the probabilities of the issues and the general effect that might be produced. Beyond question a gloom prevailed. There was no liveliness. The accustomed sprightliness of India rubber Wall street men seemed to have completely disappeared. Everything was as quiet as if Wall street was a churchyard, the Gold Room a grave and the speculators supersti[illegible]. Crowds gathered near it and gazed on with curious speculation wondering how many for ones had therein been lost and won.

In Broad street there were other crowds. Indeed there were crowds everywhere eagerly debating the great issues of the day. The event of the preceding day had completely paralyzed the market and yesterday was generally regarded as a holiday.

THE EQUALIZER!
Treating Disease by Vacuum
DR. H. A. BODMAN

HAVING PURCHASED HADFIELD'S EQUALIZER and the Patent Right for Multnomah county would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally that he is prepared to treat such [illegible] Chronic cases in whom all other means of cure have failed.

Having used this Instrument in connection with his [illegible] he is satisfied that it will accomplish all that is claimed for it in curing Chronic Disease. He does not believe in the system of advertising cases cured, but any number of such may be seen [illegible] at his office consisting principally of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Curvature of the Spine, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Weak Chests, Asthma, Narrow Chests, Weak Lungs, Weak Backs, Weak, Stiff and Rheumatic Limbs, Sciatica, Spasms, Epilepsy, Palsy, St Vitus Dance, Prolapsus Uteri, Obstructed Menses, [illegible] with all their concomitant [illegible] impotency and all kinds of weakness of the Generative Organs. Spermatorrhoea confidently cured in from four to six weeks without medicine.

He uses other remedies when [illegible] but the Equalizer generally performs the cure without the aid of any medicine whatever. It brings a greater supply of blood and nutrition to all weak parts, thus creating new life and tone and health and strength to those parts. It breaks up congestion and inflammation by equalizing the circulation throughout every part of the system.

[illegible] and you will be satisfied with the results. It has been examined by thousands of physicians of all Schools of Medicine and there has not been one dissenting voice to the correctness of the principle; all acknowledge that it fills a vacuum in the System of Medicine.

A Prototype of the Avondale Catastrophe

On the 16th of January 1863, all England was paralyzed by the announcement of a mining calamity bearing a close analogy to the late disaster at Avondale. The Hartley pit, situated in the rich Northumbrian coal fields in the north of England, but a few miles from that centre of industry Newcastle upon Tyne, was the scene of the fearful accident. The mine was doing a splendid business and the owners were wealthy, but their greed for gain would not permit the outlay necessary to sink two shafts. One shaft only was provided, partitioned with timber bratticing so as to form an up and a down cast. The mine was a [illegible] one, and a Cornish pumping engine was in continuous operation. A ponderous cast iron beam weighing forty tons communicated motion to the pump gearing. The engine house wall was built alongside of the pit, and one half of the beam projected from it over the pit's mouth. The beam had a fissure or crack in its springing from the centres, but this had not occasioned sufficient apprehension to induce an examination. Upon the day above named this ponderous beam gave way at the bearings, one half fell into the engine-house, the other half fell down the pit carrying with it the lining and bratticing of the shaft. The lining having been thus torn away, the sides of the shaft began to fall in, and this, together with the mass of debris effectually closed up the shaft. There were levels or seams in the mine from the lowest to the middle seam, there was a communication, but there was no junction between the middle and the upper seam, except by means of the shaft. By the fall of the fractured beam the mine was, unhappily for those shut in, closed above the level of the middle seam. The most extraordinary efforts were made by the workmen to clear the shaft and release the men, but without success. Two hundred and fifteen men were doomed to die by the gradual collection of deadly gasses in the pit. After a week's incessant and perilous work an entrance to the middle seam was effected. When the bodies of the entombed miners were reached, they presented the same spectacle as was witnessed in the case of the Avondale miners. They were heaped together to the number, as above stated, of two hundred and fifteen. But to the lamentations of the bereaved, the sympathy of the public there followed very soon an exhibition of another character. On all sides demands for reform were heard—emphatically a radical reform. With the outlay—alike human and economical—in proper time, for an extra shaft two hundred and fifteen lives would not have been depreciated. The public cry was soon heard in Parliament, demanding that compulsion should take the place of persuasion. It is high time for us to hear the echo of that cry in the halls of the Pennsylvania legislature.

Eight Hours Suspended

The eight hour effort at San Francisco seems to be on the decline. The Times remarks:

One of the establishments which was brought rather prominently before the public a short time ago, in connection with the Eight Hour League, was the California Planing Mills. Some account of this extensive establishment appears in our local columns to-day and suggests the occasion for remarking that the eight-hour movement has pretty well worked out its own cure. Out of the eight planing establishments, four small ones only (including the League's own mill) are attempting to run on the eight-hour plan. One of these has just had to take an extension of sixty days. But the battle is a losing and hopeless one. The ten hour mills are running under a press of work, with orders well ahead. They have application from as good workmen as are in the city for more than they can fill. In the item of labor administration and general running expenses their advantage over the other mills is twenty five per cent. Either, therefore, they must make unreasonable profits, or the others must find difficulty in making any profits at all. It is a competition which cannot be maintained. Other industries are getting along equally well, in despite of eight-hour opposition. We are aware of no carpenter work being done on this plan. The four or five heavy jobs which are going on are all on ten hours. The foundrymen are also overrun with applicants for ten-hour work. Booth & Co against whom the Moulders' League made an onslaught are working their full force of men outside of the organization. Broadly stated the proposition is a safe one—that any man who has the cash wherewith to buy workmen on Saturday night can hire as many as he wants to work ten hours per day. Most of the old establishments—foundries and others—passed through the eight-hour agitation without interruption or embarrassment. New concerns however which needed new men, were hampered, and the boot and shoe manufactories were closed. We apprehend that were the hours of labor the only obstruction to a successful prosecution of this industry it would now find no difficulty. But the great difference in the rates of wages between Lynn and San Francisco is a more serious impediment to its prosperity. Before we can hope for general and successful competition with the products of the labor of the East, we must expect to get some of their laborers from there. To do this as we have already said, it is only necessary to let those laborers know what rates of wages we are offering.

WHEN THEY STEAL THE STATE.—From the first Monday in December next and thereafter until another State election the Democrats will have full control of every branch of the state government of California probably including the judicial. The State will be to all intents and purposes as thoroughly Democratic as Kentucky. Nothing will relieve it from absolute Democratic control save the Republican county officers here and there elected, and the Federal Officials scattered throughout the State. When the Legislature meets, with its substantial Democratic majority in both Houses, there will be lively times in Sacramento. The members will be hungry and thirsty and there will be a fine opening for half a dozen more saloons at the capital. They will come down from the mountains thinned and threadbare through a ten years' expulsion from office, and frenzied to [illegible] ballot against a party which has so long kept them from the public crib. We do not think they will attempt to pass an ordinance of secession or establish slavery in California, but they will reject the Fifteenth Amendment with a howl, and do whatever else may seem good to them as Constitutional Democrats and men of desperate fortunes. The Capital Reporter refers with manifest concern to the inauguration of Democratic rule in California. The editor of the Reporter is an old politician thoroughly acquainted with Democratic instincts and anxious of course to perpetuate the rule of the party in California. But the question with him is—can the party survive the rapacious assault that will be made upon the treasury next winter? He evidently considers it doubtful and is endeavoring to cool the peculating ardor of the incoming officials by lecturing them in advance upon the beauty of honesty and the effect that their acts will have upon the future of the Demo-

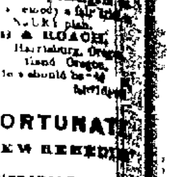
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL
San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases [illegible]
[illegible] Skin Diseases [illegible]
[illegible]

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands [illegible] both male and female [illegible] suffering [illegible] effects of secret indulgence [illegible] also bodily [illegible] Look at their pallid [illegible] faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid [illegible] [illegible] the scene [illegible] guardians [illegible] those who are [illegible] any of these [illegible] they are [illegible] before it be too late, them immediately to Dr Gibbon [illegible] made private disease a special study for years, is certain to cure them of [illegible] cases [illegible] who are afflicted [illegible] welfare of their friends [illegible] careful of the [illegible] tended doctors who [illegible] publicly [illegible] is curing all diseases in a few days [illegible] public by using the names of eminent [illegible] Europe and other places. Be therefore careful [illegible] strictly inquire or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions [illegible] consequence of self abuse, solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is by the youth of both sexes to an almost [illegible] producing with unerring certainty, the following of morbid symptoms [illegible] means [illegible] sallow countenance dark [illegible] the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears, the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, about the loins weakness of the limbs [illegible] blunted intellect loss of confidence [illegible] approaching strangers a dislike to form [illegible] a disposition to shun society loss of memory flushes pimples and various eruptions [illegible] furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption [illegible] sweats monomania and frequently insanity [illegible] not obtained should apply immediately [illegible] or by letter and have a cure effected by [illegible] scientific modes of treating this disease which [illegible] effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] rily to him that he was cured of this complaint [illegible] of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffer any of these fearful [illegible] should not [illegible] sacred responsibility resting upon them [illegible] obtain immediate relief.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give patient a written instrument binding himself [illegible] radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating [illegible] toms length of time the disease has continued [illegible] medicines promptly forwarded free from [illegible] curiosity to any part of the country with full directions for use. For Ten Dollars sent in [illegible] letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and [illegible] who with bogus sworn-to certificates dupe the [illegible] Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are found in the daily and weekly newspapers of [illegible] cisco and other places are traders [illegible] and lazy to work at their trades. Some are [illegible] makers newspaper carriers, intelligence office [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory [illegible] will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but will find their former occupations in it. Look at [illegible] tory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid [illegible] is to make enquiry. It will cost you [illegible] may save you many regrets [illegible] advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, [illegible] safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. THE APPETITE FOR TOBACCO DESTROYED!

LEAVE OFF SMOKING AND CHEWING THE POISONOUS WEED TOBACCO

ORTON'S PREPARATION!
ESTABLISHED 1868.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco in any person no matter how strong the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. It is almost impossible to break off the use of Tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted. With the help of the Preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for Tobacco and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as he was before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by Tobacco and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the poison of Tobacco from the system and thus allaying the unnatural cravings for Tobacco. No more hankering for Tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.
The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of the Preparation varies slightly in different persons the average being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco whatever after using the Preparation Two days.
The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user [illegible] loudly calls [illegible] ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.
